*Tune B string to A

Fm                    E
I'm starting over, completely over
Fm                    E
I've had enough of this dissonance and pain
Fm                    E
I've walked away with my head held straight
Fm                    E
Numb to the hum and the whispers of your graces

D                    A
Can you fill me up
                  B
Can you fill me up
D
Can you fill me up
                  A            B
I'm dying inside for something real

Fm                    E
I've got a hunger for surrender
Fm                    E
But I fear I've grown a taste for deadly poison
Fm                    E
But you've walked my way with your heart displayed
Fm                    E
Spilling crimson to take away the sting

D                    A
Can you fill me up
                  B
Can you fill me up
D
Can you fill me up
                  A            B
I'm dying inside for something real

Fm
I didn't know how much I need you
E
I didn't know how much I need you

A                    B
Open my eyes, open my eyes
C#m                D
Open my eyes, I'm dying for life
